

Knox 4-Hers advance to state

THE KNOX COUNTY
News-Courier

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 2016

Courtesy photo

Members of the Knox County 4-H who participated in district contest (l-r) in back row were Josiah Coplen, Ryan Earthman, Nate Earthman, Corrie Earthman, Morgan Earthman, Bryanne Cude and Aubrey Turner. Shawn Earthman, Belle Earthman, Skylar Turner and Rielynn Turner are pictured in front row.

By Ryan Earthman

Ryan Earthman advanced to state by winning first in senior protein in the District 3 4-H food show at the Wilbarger Auditorium in Vernon last month.

The 4-Hers prepared a dish of their choice at home, presented it to a panel of judges, and answered various questions related to nutrition, preparation and food safety.

Earning second places were Shawn Earthman in senior fruits and vegetables, Belle Earthman in junior fruits and vegetables and Corrie Earthman in senior grains.

Nate and Morgan Earthman placed third in intermediate protein and grains while Aubrey Turner finished fifth in intermediate fruits and vegetables.

In the food quiz bowl, the Knox senior team of Shawn, Corrie and Ryan Earthman claimed first place to earn advancement to state while the junior/intermediate team of Josiah Coplen, Belle Earthman, Rielynn Turner and Skylar Turner placed second.

Corrie Earthman, the district parliamentarian assisted with the bicycle blender demonstration during lunch and with the distribution of awards.